An important tip before we get started:

The sole purpose of every single cold email we've ever sent is:

To get a response.

Nothing more.
Nothing less.

But you've been pitching in your cold emails.... haven't you?

Remember this:

Jan van Musscher @janvmusscher:
If you want your cold emails to end up in the spam folder:

- Pitch hard
- Sound like a robot
- Talk about yourself

But...

Jan van Musscher @janvmusscher:
If you are trying to use cold email to actually make some sales...

Follow the advice outlined in the next 6 tweets.

Your reply rate will go through the roof.

Let's get it!

Jan van Musscher @janvmusscher:

#1 - Video Offer

Why it worked:

✅ It’s short. Readers will quickly know "what's in it for them"

✅ Provided value upfront without asking for anything back.

✅ Made it super easy to say yes. Readers will just think, “Yeah, why not.”

#2 - Desired outcome discovery

Why it worked:

✅ We opened a curiosity loop which the reader will try to close (by responding).

✅ It's all about them - "Saw YOU'RE" + "Would YOU".

✅ Made it super easy to say yes. The reader will just think "yeah.. why not."

#3 - Pain agitator + outcome discovery

Why it worked:

✅ We asked (politely) and didn't assume anything about the reader.

✅ A desired outcome was introduced & linked to a potential pain

✅ Used numbers to make it very clear exactly what they will be getting.

#4 - Proof + video offer

Why it worked:

✅ Interrupted the pattern (built engagement) by being "upfront".

✅ Dropped an authority-building case study (should be a big name).

✅ Offered value upfront without asking for anything in return.

#5 - Credibility + Proof

Why it worked:

✅ Built credibility by associating our client with "scientific research"

✅ Backed it up with a case study to double down on the credibility.

✅ Polite & informal CTA keeps the conversation light & makes it easy to respond.

Pro Tip:

Template #5 is a classic style cold email that works best in:

1. 'traditional' markets like 'EU".
2. Niche services where decision makers need a backstory to be sold (more depth)

#6 - "You can do better"

Why it worked:

✅ Shined a light on a missed opportunity that the reader will undeniably benefit from.

✅ Dropped an authority-building case study (should be a big name OR relevant, like a competitor OR both).
